

CONTENTS

PREFACE TO NEW BOOKS in the PARTNERS IN LEARNING SERIES	ix
INTRODUCTION	1
CHAPTER 1: Classroom Management and Discipline	19
The Punishment Approach	20
The Do-Nothing Approach	21
The Guided Discipline Approach	21
Identifying the Problem and Guided Discipline Response	25
Six Problem Types in the Classroom	26
Match the Right Response to the Problem	28
Matching the Right Response to a Specific Unwanted Behavior	29
Matching the Right Response to a Specific Learning Gap	34
What Students Need to Know	35
Frequently Used Terms	36
CHAPTER 2: 13 Guided Discipline Scenarios	43
Scenario 1	44
Scenario 2	45
Scenario 3	47
Scenario 4	48
Scenario 5	50
Scenario 6	51
Scenario 7	52
Scenario 8	53
Scenario 9	54
Scenario 10	56
Scenario 11	59
Scenario 12	60
Scenario 13	62
CHAPTER 3: Step 1: Know Yourself, Know Your Students, and Know Your School	63
Know Yourself	63
Know where your power and authority come from	64
Know if you are more authoritarian or authoritative	66
Know your teaching stance	67
Know your goals for discipline and personalized support	69
Know your no's, needs, and nonnegotiables	71
Know how with-it you are	71
Know how to define disrespect	72
Know how to depersonalize bad behavior	73
Know how to avoid communication roadblocks	76

Know your communication style	78
Know how to listen responsively.	80
Know how to manage your anger.	81
Know how to handle conflict in the classroom.	81
Know your conflict style.	84
Know how to recover	85
Know how to diagnose your own practice accurately.	86
Know the teacher roles you want to strengthen.	87
Know Your Students	89
Know how to diagnose the underlying reasons for unwanted behaviors	91
Know key essentials of adolescent development.	92
Know key qualities and attributes of a developed student.	95
Know Your School.	96
Know your school’s discipline policies and referral systems	96
Know colleagues and administrators whom you can count on for help and assistance	97
CHAPTER 4: Step 2: Create Group Norms, Procedures, and Learning Protocols	99
Create Group Norms	99
Establish positive group guidelines and agreements	101
Discuss the issue of respect	104
Generate a list of rights and responsibilities	114
Explain your approach to discipline	114
Create Group Procedures	116
Be clear about the reasons for procedures and be consistent in enforcing them.	117
Model, teach, practice, and assess the procedures you expect	119
Create Group Learning Protocols	134
Use group learning protocols to build intellectual, metacognitive, social and emotional competencies	135
Use group problem-solving protocols to help students manage conflict and negotiate learning	136
CHAPTER 5: Step 3: Support Individuals and the Group	141
Support Students’ Social and Emotional Development	141
Model, teach, practice, and assess life skills	141
Teach Students How to Manage their Emotions	147
Teach the conflict escalator	151
Teach the differences between aggressive, passive, and assertive behavior	151
Provide scripts that encourage students to say and do the right thing	155
Provide Personalized Support and Recognition	158
Make personal connections with every student.	158
Provide immediate and meaningful feedback and encouragement	158
Provide personalized support for students who are struggling.	161
Create opportunities for students to link personal effort to their successes.	164
Recognize individual accomplishments in and out of the classroom	166

Provide Group Support and Recognition	168
Build and maintain a cohesive group	168
Strengthen your group facilitation skills	169
Monitor and assess group participation.	171
Create classroom routines and rituals that involve every student.	172
Recognize and celebrate the group’s efforts and accomplishments	172
Use group incentives, random reinforcement, and intermittent rewards	173
CHAPTER 6: Step 4: Invite Student Engagement, Cooperation, and Self-Correction	177
Set the Stage for Engagement and Cooperation: Five Essential Everyday Practices	178
1. Get the group’s attention.	178
2. Give clear instructions	180
3. Insist on silence when silence is required	181
4. Use proximity and physical prompts first when students are off task.	182
5. Design well-paced, student-centered lessons	184
Help Students Get Ready to Learn and Focus	188
Help students settle in at the beginning of class	188
Help students wake up, energize, and recharge the mind and body	189
Do a quick check-in to read the group before a lesson begins	191
Set goals to get ready to learn.	192
Avoid Pitfalls that Derail Discussion.	193
Prepare students to participate responsibly in discussion	193
Redirect unproductive group talk behaviors	194
Defuse, disarm, and deflate provocative behavior.	195
Address Students’ Negative Speech and Unacceptable Language.	196
Review norms and consequences related to public speech.	197
Interrupt negative speech using multiple strategies	198
Intervene immediately when students’ speech is beyond correction	203
Invite Students to Cooperate and Self-Correct	204
Intervene when students are confused or stuck	204
Redirect students when they look bored or disengaged.	205
When students are doing the wrong thing or doing it at the wrong time	207
Use Problem Solving and Logical Consequences when Self-Correction Isn’t Enough.	207
Offer students chances to solve problems and make choices	207
Insist on problem solving and negotiation rather than complaints.	208
Put the responsibility on the student when an unwanted behavior persists	209
Use logical consequences to correct minor problematic behaviors	209
Defuse Feelings of Anger, Frustration, and Discouragement	211
Help defuse students’ anger and frustration	211
Let students know what they can do to cool down	213
Communicate your support and confidence when students feel discouraged	214
Plan, Organize, Document and Track Guided Discipline Supports and Interventions	215
Implement guided discipline supports and interventions every week	215
Track and document what you do and what your students do.	216

CHAPTER 7: Step 5: Develop Accountable Consequences and Supportive Interventions	221
Address Persistent Unwanted Behaviors from Day 1	221
Prioritize problem behaviors you want to be ready for	223
Establish three levels of consequences and supportive interventions	226
Discuss the difference between punishment and accountable consequences	229
Diagnose problem behaviors accurately	230
Defuse and De-Escalate Potential Confrontations and Power Struggles	232
Don't give students the opportunity to argue and "lawyer up"	233
Name the consequence, exit, and deal with it later	233
When The Group Messes Up	234
Help the group get unstuck	235
Create an intervention plan when the whole group is messing up	237
Teach desired target behaviors that replace unwanted behaviors	239
Make One-on-One Conferencing a Daily Practice	241
Use one-on-one conferences to link problem behaviors to desired target behaviors	242
Use one-on-one conferences to show concern when students are upset or personally distressed	243
More conferencing tips when students are upset	244
Use one-on-one conferences to find out more about unmotivated and resistant students	244
Use one-on-one conferences to listen to "frequent fliers"	245
Use Behavior Report Forms, Problem-Solving Protocols, Conduct Cards, and Learning Contracts	247
Make a Plan when a Class is "Off the Hook"	249
Take time to reflect on the situation	249
Choose a few strategies to get back on track	250
Communicate with Parents in a Variety of Ways	253
Problem Solve with Your Colleagues	255
APPENDIX A: Conference Forms and Problem Solving Protocols	257
APPENDIX B: A Guide for Reflection, Practice, and Planning	279
APPENDIX C: Learning Protocols for Professional Development	335
Prereading Protocols	337
While-You-Read Protocols	346
Small- and Large-Group Protocols	354
Products / Presentations / Report Outs	356
Assessment / Feedback / Planning / Closings / Final Thoughts	363